

Changing your view in PULSE....

Do you have trouble finding the course you are after in PULSE?

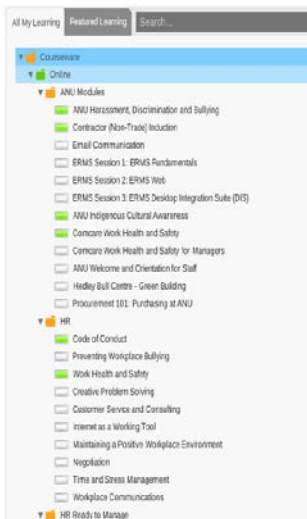

The default setting in Pulse for course listings is carousel style. Although this is a visually pleasing view it can make it a little challenging to find the course you are looking for.

Did you know you can change your view style?

In the top right hand corner, there is a drop down menu which will allow you to change the view from the standard carousel to tiles, tree or list style. Click on the menu to select the style that best suits you.
